10. BRIEF SUMMARY OF SIGHTING Round object, greenish-white, changing to a reddish-orange color. Size of quarter at arm's length. Pieces peeling off continued to glow. No sound heard. When pieces broke, object dropped abruptly; at first traveling W-E, then appeared to turn N, 4 or 5 pieces off main portion then exploded. When observed, aircraft at 20,000 ft sighted additional level at 80° port. Disappeared going down, partly down, 90° port.				11. COMMENTS Large number of people reported objects. Witnesses ranged from Washington to as far as about 50 miles S of Portland, Oregon. Objects observed by all witnesses were not one and the same, although they had same characteristics. These characteristics indicate that objects were part of a meteor shower. The earth is passing through several meteor showers this time of year, the two most prominent this time of the month, Pegasids III and Pegasi.

k. Comments of preparing officer: 142nd Air Defense Wing Flying Safety Officer. The following comments were obtained from an official of the US Weather Bureau, Spokane International Airport, qualifications unknown. "The length of time the object was observed (10 sec), the fact that the pilot observed pieces breaking off the object and the direction of flight (SW to NE) indicate the possibility the object was a man-made object (Satellite.) Meteorites generally burn out within 2 seconds and generally do not exhibit any visible break-up while they are burning out." However, the pilot could very easily have been mistaken as to the time the object was visible.
