5,000'	+ 45°F	25,000' + -30°F

h. Observers claimed a plane (2 engine) flew over the area immediately after the sighting, but no records of such a plane exist for the area indicated.

i. Preparing officer - 2Lt S.T. Martin, Jr., Assistant Ground Training Officer, BOT, ext 3108, Box 693, Whiteman AFB, Missouri, 65301. Personal interviews with the observers of the sightings, and I have found them very reliable and positive in relating their information. However, after considerable discussion with our weather officer, 2Lt Wade, I believe the "lights" were caused by weather conditions at that time which consisted of a front moving across the area causing radical vertical temperature changes. The source of the "lights" could have been a plane sighted in the area soon after the "lights" were seen.

Colonel Brendle:

Colonel Adkins received following from Jack Crawford,
California Publishing Co., California, Mo.:

Two local, reliable business men reported an unidentified flying object at 0100 this morning, 30 Jan. It approached from the east from Russelville and went over the [REDACTED] farm at which point it turned northwest and flew directly over California, Mo. The object had lights that were white, green, red and reddish blue, very bright, similar to Xmas tree lights. They were cycling very fast, no sound involved, estimated 1/2 mile high! The object was going up and down at varying rates of speed. Cannot estimate size or shape but observers stated the motion was too slow for a plane and too fast for a Helicopter.

'Flying Saucers' Visit Central Missouri Area

Flying saucers occupied the attention of two Boonslick area groups last week, when reports of unidentified flying objects were made by observers near California, and a discussion in Fayette told of reports of them. Raymond Barbour and Robert Crawford of California reported seeing unexplained lights about 1 a.m. on Jan. 30, as they were wolf hunting about 12 miles south of California. They observed lights approaching from the east.

The lights followed a sequence of white, green, red and then extremely bright blue, they reported, and described them as being similar to those of a Christmas tree except that they were blinking at a rapid rate.

The lights changed course, and appeared to go directly north. The men said that although the lights changed altitude up and down at varied rates, they moved too slowly for a jet and too fast for a helicopter. The two were unable to estimate the size or shape of the vehicle involved.

A spokesman at Whiteman Air Force Base at Knob Noster said that while all planes are equipped with white, green and red navigation lights, more recently some have had strobe lights added.

These lights give off a brilliant bluish white light that lasts only a few thousandths of a second and is so intense it could create the effect of the other lights going out or blinking. The strobe light cannot operate continuously but must blink at a rapid rate.

About 600 reports of unexplained or unexplainable unidentified flying objects have been reported during the last 20 years, Dean James P. Thogmorton said on Thursday. A professor at Central Methodist College in Fayette, he spoke at a meeting of the Round Table Club in Fayette.

Reported sightings of the UFO's number more than 10,000 during the two decades, Dean Thogmorton said. While a large number of them have been accounted for, about 600 remain unexplained, he said. Even as long ago as 1897, there was a report of a "cigar-shaped" flying object over Kansas by a former congressman, one Alexander Hamilton, who claimed that he had a heifer lassoed and carried away, with the carcass later found on another farm.

While the cigar shape was the most common one reported earlier, recent descriptions of reported UFO's have been of saucer-shaped vehicles. Some of the witnesses have claimed to see little creatures; some have claimed to have gone aboard their vehicles. An "aerial display" of many disc-shaped UFO's maneuvering at high speeds over Scandinavia and Russia was reported in 1946. Other reports have come from various places in the world.

Dean Thogmorton told of the investigations by the Air Force in its "Project Bluebook" begun in 1947 of all UFO reports, and of a civilian group called APRO (Aero Phenomena Research Organization) which was associated with the Air Force work in the field. One of its members contends that a UFO may have caused the "massive short" that resulted in power failure and the blackout in northeast United States in November, 1965. The Air Force, so far as is known, takes the view that most if not all UFO reports are the result of hoaxes, hallucinations or misinterpretation of known natural or man-made phenomena.

While there have been many supposedly authentic reports of having seen UFO's or having felt the effects of their presence, there is with one exception no material evidence of their having hovered over the earth. The exception is a piece of pure magnesium reported found on the coast of Brazil in 1957 after a UFO was said to have exploded.

Many scientists, Dean Thogmorton said, are grateful that a $300,000 grant has been made directly to the University of Colorado for a study of all the UFO evidence to date, under direction of Dr. Edward Condor. For in the view of one scientist, while there is "no incontrovertible evidence" of extra terrestrial visitors to our planet, it would be "foolish" not to consider the possibility.

UFO Reported Over California

Flying saucers perhaps? Well, Raymond Barbour and Robert Crawford are not sure, but they describe a phenomenon they witnessed at about 1 a.m. Monday as something they had never seen before.

The two men were wolf hunting on the Earl Morris farm about 12 miles south of California when they observed lights approaching from the east. The lights followed a sequence of white, green, perhaps a red and then an extremely bright blue. The lights were described as being similar to those on a Christmas tree except that they were blinking at a rapid rate.

When the lights reached the Clyde Medlin place they changed course to the northwest and apparently went directly over California. The men said that although the lights changed altitude up and down at varied rates and moved at a rate too slow for a jet but too fast for a helicopter. The lights were interesting to watch, they said, but they were unable to estimate the size or shape of the vehicle involved.

In recent weeks there have been numerous reports of unidentified flying objects by numerous reliable witnesses in the Midwest.

On hearing this report a reporter called Troop F of the Highway Patrol to learn there had been no other reports of the incident. Whitman Air Force Base at Knob Noster then was called. A request was made to the switchboard operator to speak to someone in regard to sighting a UFO. After a slight delay an air force colonel answered and took down the details. The fact that a colonel answered indicated the air force has strong interest in such sightings.

While the air force did not speculate the most likely explanation is that the object was a jet plane at high altitude. The particular air layers on the very clear night caused the illusion that the object was at low altitude. Air planes are equipped with white, green and red navigation lights. More recently some are being equipped with strobe lights. These lights give off a brilliant bluish white light that lasts only a few thousands of a second and is so intense it could create the effect of the other lights going out or blinking. The strobe light cannot operate continuously but must blink at a rapid rate.

This explanation does not cover the entire incident. Could it have been a?
